

Field Service Bulletin Library for John Deere "H" Tractors (3-19-2010)

2ND EDITION -- 174 DATA PAGES on CD!

Unique. Absolutely nothing like it! Rich in history & technical content.

A vital part of the John Deere Product Support Mission was a series of Field Service Bulletins (FSBs). An engineering arm of the tractor company staff prepared brief notices containing new methods or correcting existing ones, announcing new parts or combinations of parts, or to amplify on technical information already published.

The main purpose of the FSB series was to support branch houses and dealerships; and in particular, the JD service men! Today, they are useful for historical data as well as their technical content.

Now available to you on CD are 174 of those FSB pages in PDF format, beginning in 1935 and continuing through 1953 that bear in some way on the John Deere Model "H" tractor.

Of the 174 pages, 124 were issued during the "Golden Years" of the JD-H, from April 39 thru July 46.

Also on the CD are a Table of Contents, a chronological listing by FSB number and subject matter, and a Subject Index arranged alphabetically by tractor area to point you to the information you need.